Cognition Lab

Lab 7

1) Instructions

Write clear and detailed instructions so that your classmates, on Friday, will be able to run your study on their own.

On Friday, we will set up so that on each desk there will be three sheets. A log sheet (that I will prepare), the instructions and the debriefing, that should be turned upside down. The instructions should include the following (adapted to your study):

- Please fill in the log sheet
- Double click on the file…
- Click on “Run”
- Enter your initials
- (…)
- Open the folder “Data” or / Look in the folder ….
- Make sure that your data has been correctly saved
- Read the debriefing and then put it back where it was, always facing down.

2) Debriefing

The debriefing ia short document, one or two paragraphs in length. In the debriefing, you thank the participant, explain what the study was about and include your contact information for further information.
